with JULIAN & SEBASTIAN ERGGELET
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2024 • 4PM - 7PM

Meet Julian and Sebastian Erggelet. Their interest in wine was sparked while sipping leftover Riesling out of Grandfather Erggelet's goblet as kids. After growing up in southern Germany and coming of age as vinophile dilettantes, Sebastian pursued degrees in Philosophy & Economics and Julian in Medicine. As they progressed along their respective career paths, the focus of their lives gradually shifted from sitting under fluorescent office lights to walking through the vineyards of the Rhine valley—exploring the joys of farming, eating good food, and drinking great wines.

While Sebastian went back to school for Viticulture & Enology, Julian completed his medical degree. They then embarked on a journey around the globe to taste, experience, and gain the experience necessary to make intriguing wines. The “learning years” saw the brothers working their way through harvests, cellars, kitchens, and many bottles of wine in France, Switzerland, Australia, and Spain.

They arrived in California in 2014 with just enough savings to cover two months' rent and buy a “well used” Subaru. After gaining invaluable experience at OVID and Seven Stones Winery in the Napa Valley, then Martin Estate in Rutherford and Hannah Nicole Winery in Brentwood, the duo started making their own wine in 2015. In addition to collaborating on their eponymous label, Sebastian is the Associate Winemaker for Grgich Hills Estate in Rutherford; and Julian spends his days fixing tractors and farming his vineyard and orchard in Contra Costa County.
