with Jim Powers of Maverick Selections
Wednesday, April 27th, 4PM - 7PM

“It is more important than ever that small, family-owned, boutique wineries continue to showcase what can be accomplished when quality grapes are nurtured from vineyard to bottle.” – Jim Powers, Maverick Selections

A Fermentation Science graduate of UC Davis, Jim worked a harvest internship in Châteauneuf-du-Pape at Domaine du Vieux Télégraphe before working for 12 years in Napa Valley at both Charles Krug Winery and Pine Ridge Winery as a winemaker. After leaving wine production, he began importing wine from Chile, Argentina, and South Africa with several partners. In 2008 Jim separated from those partners and opened Maverick Selections to focus on the wines he was much more enthusiastic about—French wines. Maverick Selections began importing wines from various southern Rhône properties, eventually expanding into other regions: Northern Rhône, Loire, Burgundy, Provence, etc.

Now exclusively a French wine importer, Jim and his team consistently deliver a portfolio of delicious French wines from outstanding producers. Join us for an evening showcasing five distinct wines from the Maverick portfolio, with the bonus of Jim, himself on hand to share the history and lore of this dynamic lineup!
