PEAY

with Andy Peay
Wednesday, May 12th, 4PM - 7PM

Please join us Wednesday, May 12th any time between 4:00-7:00 pm, when we welcome proprietor Andy Peay to our wine bar on the patio for an al fresco flight night! Ferry Plaza Wine Merchant's pop-up wine bar is in the front of the Ferry Building at the old Market Bar space. We look forward to serving you indoors again, but we want to give you all the fresh air and space that we can, while we can.

The Peay brothers searched all up and down the West Coast looking for a location to grow cool climate Pinot Noir and Syrah. They finally found a beautiful piece of land high atop a ridge of sloping hills just four miles from the Pacific Ocean on the remote northwest corner of West Sonoma Coast. What was once an apple orchard, became a prime vineyard site where they eventually planted 51 acres of vines mostly to Pinot Noir, with Syrah, Chardonnay, Viognier, Marsanne and Roussanne rounding out the mix. Nick had years of experience winemaking and was particularly interested in winegrowing, understanding how vital the health of the soil is to the quality of the fruit on the vine. Once he met and fell in love with Vanessa Wong, who was making quite a name for herself as winemaker for Peter Michael, he happily turned over the winemaking duties to her when she officially joined the brothers in 2001. Nick focuses all his abundant energy managing the organically farmed vineyards while Andy handles all the sales and marketing running the business of Peay Vineyards. Together all three of them get to share their passion and enthusiasm for producing world class small production gems from their little piece of heaven.

Peay Vineyards Flight Night is always a much anticipated event and this year is an especially great opportunity to experience four wonderful Peay Vineyards wines all at once. Andy is really excited about how well the current releases are showing now; plus, we will explore the 2014 vintage of the Peay Estate Scallop Pinot Noir alongside the 2018 current release.
