with BRIAN TERRIZZI

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 2022 • 4PM - 7PM

Being a proud Italian American, Brian Terrizzi grew up with a love and fascination for all things Italian, especially when it came to food and wine. His career in wine started at Rosenblum Cellars across the bay in Alameda. His second job was working in Tuscany with Paolo DeMarchi at Isole e Olena, followed by travel throughout Italy to learn its old-world winemaking traditions. Back in California, he enrolled in the enology program at Fresno State University where he met his future wife, Stephanie, who was studying for a degree in Enology, Chemistry and Plant Sciences. With Stephanie's vast experience managing vineyards in Napa, Sonoma and the Central Valley plus Brian's winemaking skills, they co-founded Broadside Wines with partner Chris Brockway. Giornata in Paso Robles followed a few years later, and was the realization of a mutual dream of creating a label focused exclusively on Italian varietals. The name is taken from an Italian art term meaning 'a day's work'. Giornata sources Italian grapes from select sites along the Central Coast, including the organically certified Luna Matta Vineyard, which Stephanie manages. In modeling their winemaking approach after their beloved Italian producers, Brian and Stephanie pick their grapes at lower sugar levels, handle the must gently in the cellar and strive to showcase balance and subtlety rather than intensity and extraction.

Brian will be guiding us through five unique Giornata wines; this promises to be a fun and educational event. We hope to see you there. Saluti!
