At the beginning of the 20th century, Giovanni and Teresa Cotroneo founded the family farm in the town of Torrecuso, in the province of Benevento, along the contrade (or lands) of Rivolta. Over the years, they increased their holdings, eventually growing it into one of the largest and most productive farms in the region. Fattoria La Rivolta is located in the hilly terrain which ranges in altitude, between 300 and 600 meters above sea-level. With unique soils of limestone and clay, the vineyards are located in one of the smallest DOCs in the region: Campania's Taburno—home to some of the most picturesque and mountainous vineyards in all of Europe!

Upon their passing, the 120-hectare property was divided equally between the couple's eight children and in 1991 two of the brothers, Mario and Bruno, combined their parcels and began working together. In 1997, they were joined by Paolo, a third-generation farmer, who was passionate about winegrowing, and the Fattoria La Rivolta brand was born. Paolo implemented organic farming and under his guidance, working with sisters, Giovanna and Gabriella, and cousin Giancarlo, Fattoria la Rivolta became certified organic in 2001. Today Fattoria la Rivolta has a total of 29 hectares under vine, planted to the white varietals: Falanghina, Coda di Volpe and Fiano, and the red grapes: Aglianico and Piediroso.
