

PRESENTS...

welcome to our world of discovery

WITH JIM CLARKE

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 2025 • 4PM - 7PM

Come join Jim Clarke, author of Wines of South Africa, for a tour across the Western Cape. We'll be looking at the cutting edge of South African winemaking, featuring wines from five brands that all got their start in the new millennium. Some are working in Stellenbosch, the center of South Africa's vibrant wine scene, while others are exploring new corners—Swartland, which has already made a name for itself, but also further afield in Bot River and Malgas. South Africa's diverse landscape offers the chance to grow a wide range of different grape varieties. We'll taste modern takes of the Cape's signature grapes, Chenin Blanc and Pinotage, but we'll also see familiar names like Syrah and more unexpected varieties like Touriga Nacional. Today's generation of young South African winemakers have one eye to the country's 366-year-old tradition of winemaking and the other on the future, and it's the latter that shows in the glass.

Jim Clarke is the Country Manager for Wines of South Africa, the trade organization dedicated to promoting South African wine exports. He is also a former sommelier, having run the wine programs at Megu and Armani Ristorante in New York City. Aside from Wines of South Africa, published by Academia du Vin, he has contributed to many publications over the years including the San Francisco Chronicle, Bloomberg, Fortune, and The World of Fine Wine.
